

When Darkness Falls

Song Lyrics

9. DEEP SEA

Looking out across the empty sea today
Cold reflections greet me as I stare
Wishing that your voice would come to me today
Speaking words that I can hear

*Every cloud up in the sky
Seems to know the reason why
I've come here
Every rock beneath the sea
Knows the words that I should speak
Knows the song that I should sing
Knows the time I should begin
Silence speaks within.*

Wishing that the tide would wash this pain away
Taking it beyond the farthest sea
Longing for the waves to wash my shame away
Lost forever in the deep.

Staring out to sea I have no voice today
Stolen by the darkness deep within
Crushed beneath the waves against the rocks again
Silence whispers, from within

Speak for the ones who will stand by the sea
Crushed by the world, too afraid to be free
Speak for the ones who will stand here alone
Speak for the ones too afraid to be known
